Centennial (TUS100) News Update

January 10, 2021 – New Year Update and Call to Historians

Welcome to the new year! We started the news year by releasing our re-vamped website and are working through the minor bugs. Thank you to everyone who has patiently waited while this process took place, we hope you enjoy the new site. As the Centennial progresses, we will post more content to the site.

Arlington National Cemetery will be open to the public again on January 18 (Martin Luther King Jr. Day) and January 20 (Inauguration Day) with normal operating hours, however the Memorial Amphitheater and the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier will remain closed for refurbishment work. There are restrictions for entering the cemetery, so please visit their website for the latest information.

The Chief of Naval Operations has announced the 2021 CNO History Essay Contest. Submissions need to be received by May 31, 2021 and you can find the eligibility rules by following this link: 2021 CNO NAVAL HISTORY ESSAY CONTEST > United States Navy > Message

We are calling for all historians to consider writing an essay on the naval involvement with the Unknown Soldier in 1921, 1958, and 1984 and how that connects with our Navy's establishment and maritime superiority. There is a story to tell...you are the best to do it!
